Farm Adviser Nicholas Appeared on Farm and Home Week Program

Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas, who received much recognition during the past few weeks regarding an article which received second place award of $2600.00 appeared on the Farm and Home Week program at Urbana to discuss the subject of "The Electric Welder in Making Equipment and Emergency Repairs."

Mr. Nicholas was invited to appear on the 10th Rural Electrification conference by Prof. E. W. Lehman, head of the Department of Agricultural Engineering. Prof. Lehman was one of the judges who read over the papers submitted by several hundred contestants in a nation-wide award and scholarship program on the subject of "Arc Welding in Agriculture," sponsored by the Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation. Mr. Lehman did not know until several weeks after he returned to Urbana that one of the papers he read and judged was awarded second place was submitted by Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas.

In his discussion to the conference Mr. Nicholas pointed out how during his more than 4000 farm visits as a farm adviser he had observed the part arc welding played in keeping farm machinery in operation. The speaker emphasized that it would have been doubtful if the great increase in food production could have been realized during the war period without the aid of welding in keeping farm equipment and machinery in operation.

Antioch Athlete to Play in Kentucky-DePaul BB Game at Chicago Sat.

Quite a number of Antioch people expect to witness the basketball game at Chicago Saturday night in which Dale Barnstable, brother of Russell Barnstable, and a graduate of Antioch Township High school in 1943 will play with the University of Kentucky team against DePaul university.

The game will be played in the Chicago stadium and it is considered the chief basketball attraction of the year.

Kentucky is rated as the No. 1 team of the country this year after having defeated Notre Dame by a wide margin, and having lost but one game in more than 20 starts. The team has three all-American centers.

Dale, in his first year on the squad, has had opportunity to play a lot although he is too new to be in the starting lineup. Pictures of the team were used in Life magazine three weeks ago and Dale was shown in action. He plays a forward position.

Minstrel Show Title Announced
"Breezy Inn Minstrels" is the name of the home talent minstrel show St. Peter's parish is planning for March 16 and 17. Although six weeks away, plans for the show are going ahead rapidly. With the exception of high school products there have been no adult minstrel shows in Antioch for a number of years. This one will be given in St. Peter's hall.

Street Department Receives Praise for Prompt Snow Removal

Much well deserved praise has been afforded the village employees for the excellent job of removing the snow from Main street this week. Street Commissioner William Thiemann and a crew of men tackled the job of removing the huge piles of snow which had been piled up near the curbs after last week's snow storm as soon as all village streets had been made passable, and cleaned most of the business section of the snow on Friday.

Trucks and other equipment was loaned and donated by public spirited citizens to augment the village equipment, and a good many "sidewalk engineers" were engrossed by the small front end loader mounted on a tractor loaned by C. R. Keulman. The outfit made short work of loading the snow on trucks. An idea of the amount of snow moved can be had by viewing the small mountain piled up on the Ackerman property near the water tower, where the snow was dumped.

Can Village Dispose Of Surplus Property Question For Board

Can Antioch sell its surplus parking ground not used for a community building without calling for an election.

That is the question that confronted the village board Tuesday night.

An election must be held, according to Attorney George McGaughey, who reserved his final opinion until he has had more time to look up the law.

Chicago investment bankers present at the meeting agreed with President George B. Bartlett that no referendum is necessary. They say that the ground not used for the building can be sold as any other surplus material.

The decision probably will rest on the wording of the referendum by which the purchase of the old hotel site was made. The board has agreed to place the building on the west 85 feet of the property facing Orchard street, leaving room for a business building that could be built facing Main street.

President Bartlett and some members of the board would like to provide much of the money for the expense of the building by the sale of village property and moneys on hand. He says the sale of the building now occupied by the fire department and the surplus parking lot will be a substantial sum.

Because the priority permit to erect the village hall may not be forthcoming for some time, it is proposed that work be started on the fire department section which can get an early priority.

George Kelly of Racine, Known in Antioch, Dies

George Kelly of Racine, Wis., brother of Charles Kelly of Lake Villa, died Wednesday, Jan. 29 at a Racine hospital after an illness of four months.

He was well known in Antioch having been a nephew of William Kelly, a pioneer resident of Antioch. He is survived by his wife, Effie, a son, Robert of Racine, and a daughter, Katherine, of Beloit.

The funeral was held Monday at Racine.

Fox Lake to Construct Grade School Building

Fox Lake voted a $150,000 bond issue Saturday to finance the construction of an addition to the grade school building.

The vote was 10 to 1 on the proposition to erect the two-story addition, float the bond issue and increase taxes to redeem the bonds and finance increase education costs.

The enrollment at Fox Lake increased from 80 in 1941 to 175 this year. The addition will house four class rooms, a kindergarten room, combination band room, kitchen, library, office and rest rooms. New toilet facilities and a storage room will be provided.

Plans for the construction on designs provided by LeRoy Thompson, Elgin architect, will be laid at a meeting tomorrow evening.

Public Invited to Lecture

Harold Molter, C. S. B. of Chicago will lecture on the subject "Christian Science: The Science of Eternal Life" at 8 o'clock tonight at the Methodist church. The lecture is free and the public is invited.

Antioch Will Battle Palatine Here Friday, Northbrook Tuesday

Sequoits Hope to Gain Second Place in Northwest Loop Next Week

Gunning for second place in the Northwest conference Antioch will try for victory over Palatine here tomorrow night.

It will be a tough assignment that Coach Kruzan has for his boys but they believe they are capable of the job and a victory will clinch the second berth.

After Palatine will come Northbrook for what is expected to be another close game on Tuesday night. A game with Grant there on Feb. 21 will wind up the season.

The Sequoits won from Wauconda there last Friday night 41 to 32. Wauconda led at the half 20 to 15, but in the third quarter Antioch found its shooting eye and before the quarter ended took the lead never to be overcome.

The Antioch guards held the Wauconda forwards to low scores while Jones and Fields did the heavy scoring.

The Jayvees lost to Wauconda, however, 32 to 48. The Wauconda second team led at the half 25 to 10.

"The Antioch freshmen traveled to Warren Township High Monday and came home with the long end of a 25-17 score. The Warren team will play a return game here on Feb. 17.

March of Dimes Fund Twice Last Years Total Here

Total at End of Campaign Now $538.27, Chairman Roy Kufalk Reports

Antioch more than doubled last year's gift to the March of Dimes fund through a total contribution of $538.27 at the close of the campaign this week, Chairman Roy Kufalk announced.

In 1946 the fund amounted to $245, but recognizing the need of money to combat infantile paralysis which increased last year, the people of the community responded more generously.

Main contributions were through the two local theatres, the Antioch theatre collecting $165.25 and the Lakes theatre $171. Receipts in business houses netted a total of $74.16, Kufalk said.

Group contributions included Veterans of Foreign Wars, $27.86; Grade school, $28; Lions club, $25; Grass Lake P. T. A., $5; Antioch Home Bureau, $12; and Willing Workers, $5.

Kufalk said that there was a possibility that there would be contributions from other organizations later. The rest of the fund came from private gifts ranging from $1 to $5.

The chairman was quite pleased with the results and thanked the people for their hearty response.

Business Women Hear Talk on Propaganda

Despite the bad weather of last Monday night 22 members of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club were present at the club's meeting at the home of Mrs. H. B. Gaston on North Main st. that night, hearing a talk by George R. Rinehart, Waukegan newspaper man on the techniques of propaganda.

"Propaganda if correctly defined, is to society what winds are to lakes; it provides that churning process that refreshes and prevents stagnation," Rinehart said.

"A static society is immune to propaganda, but a static society suffers from stagnation and in the end will destroy itself," he explained.

The speaker said that propaganda is the process by which one person or group seeks to gain acceptance of his or its attitude from others. There is a salesmanship process not unlike the selling of goods or services, Rinehart told his audience.

"There must be an agreement on a basic attitude and from there the propagandist seeks through the latent attitudes, urges and impulses of the propagandized persons to bring them around to his way of thinking," the speaker said. "The most subtle way is through suggestion."

Mrs. Irving Elms presided in the absence of the president and was assisted by Mrs. Maud Sabia.

Lake Co. Farm Bureau Annual Meeting to Be February 15, 1947

The 32nd Annual meeting of the Lake County Farm Bureau will be held at the Grayslake Grade school auditorium on Saturday, Feb. 15, 1947, according to an announcement by E. E. Elsbury, president.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 a. m., and will include reports by the various officers and the farm adviser, entertainment, and a free lunch at noon, served by the Lake County Home Bureau.

Floyd E. Morris, Buffalo, Sangamon county farmer, and vice-president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, will address the meeting. Mr. Morris is a practical farmer and outstanding agricultural leader.

The president of the Farm Bureau will report the highest membership ever attained in Lake county, now numbering more than 1400 members.

All Farm Bureau members, their wives, and members of their families are invited to attend.

Lions To Meet at 19th Hole Monday

Tony Novak, of the Illinois Conservation department will show movies featuring sports in Illinois at a meeting of the Antioch Lions club Monday evening at the 19th Hole, route 59. The movies will constitute the program for the meeting, which is to be a program meeting with no business to be transacted.

Lions President Roman B. Vos said today that much interest is being evidenced in the proposed program to provide a field house for the local Boy Scout troops and that indications are that much help from local organizations and individuals will be forthcoming if the club makes a decision to carry out the project. "Another subject which is receiving attention of club members concerns the sponsorship of a 'Safety on the Lakes' drive which will be carried out during the coming summer season. Vos said that the subject was to be the next on the program for the Safety committee of the club, and that it will probably take the form of an educational drive of fishermen and boaters and the possible patrolling of the waterways to curb speeding and reckless driving by speedboat owners.

Legion Sets July 10-13 As Date For Carnival

The Antioch American Legion post took down its calendar this week and marked July 10 to 13 as the date of the annual carnival. The auxiliary again will assist in the event and will share in the proceeds. Other plans for the carnival will be made as the time passes.

Tenth district officers will be present at the Legion's meeting tonight. Everett Hatfield, commander, has urged a 100 per cent membership by February so that the post can be given credit in the "Doug" Getchell drive. The post had 204 members last year.

Although the post has discontinued its Saturday night dances, it is sponsoring a dance for Saturday, Feb. 22, in the hall as a benefit for the Boy Scout troop.

Board Contracts For Preparation Of Bond Issue

Employs Chicago Firm to Prepare Ordinance for New Sewage Plant

With an eye on the December 1 deadline given by the state health department for correcting Antioch's sewage situation the village board last evening gave the White-Phillips firm of investment bankers in Chicago the task of gathering data and preparing an ordinance covering the issuance of revenue bonds for the $32,000 new sewage system.

The bonds probably will be for 10 years at 3 per cent interest, and plans are being made to pay them off from water and sewer revenues.

While the details of the plan are yet to be worked out, the board of trustees has in mind at present a 50 cents a month assessment on sewer inlets and a certain amount of the profits of the water system to pay off the bonds. There was talk of establishing 50 cents as the minimum rate and a rate charge over that based on the amount of water used and drained into the sanitary sewer.

Notice of the proposed bond issue will be given and if the citizens do not petition for an election, the bonds can be prepared and sold within 60 days.

Because of the time needed in studying and estimating the income from utilities it was thought best to start at once so that the improvement can be made during the summer.

"This is a must proposition," President George B. Bartlett said last evening as the board speeded its action to employ the investment firm and set it to work.

Arnold Schreifer, representing the Chicago firm, presented figures to show that at the rate of 50 cents a month from each sewer user the village would receive $1,965 a year. This was exclusive of connection charges which were estimated to approximate a total of $400.

The income from the water system was estimated at $2,272 a year. Figures were prepared to provide for amortization of bonds from that revenue alone in 18 years, but members of the board were decided in their wishes for 10-year payment.

They were unanimous in their preference for the combined form and were opposed to any other method than revenue payments. Tax bonds must be used for other types of improvement, they said.

Rep. Kelsey Named Chairman of House Agricultural Com.

One of the most important committees in the House of Representatives will be headed by State Representative Harld D. Kelsey, Barrington, Ill. Kelsey, who has been a member of the house for the past four terms has been active in agricultural affairs for many years, and headed the Bang's control program which has done much to bring this disease of cattle under control. This appointment is a signal honor both to Mr. Kelsey and the district he represents, especially since the recent streamlining of the House committees has cut the number of standing committees from 38 to 26. The number of members on each committee has also been reduced.

Kelsey, besides heading the agricultural committee, will serve as a member of the committees on appropriations, enrolling, fish and game, liquor regulation, revenue and road and bridge.

Legion Cagers Begin Home Season Tonight

The American Legion basketball team will begin its home series of games here tonight with the first team meeting the strong Zion team and the second team playing the preliminary with Lake Villa.

Antioch returns home with an even break in games abroad. Both teams lost Tuesday evening to Grayslake by decided scores. They have won from Fox Lake and Wauconda but lost to Grayslake and Richmond.

Coach Dale Rockow said that hereafter the Legionnaires will play home games on Thursday nights the rest of the season. The games are played at the Antioch High school gymnasium.

The New Dictators

Efforts to nationalize the electric light and power business continue via the "Authority" route, the American term for dictatorship.

"An Authority," says A. S. Cummins, President, California Oregon Power company, "is a Federal corporation clothed with the powers of government, possessed of flexibility of action, and with power to control the enjoyment, utilization and development of natural resources of a region comprising an area of a major river basin and adjacent territory. It transcends state boundaries and rights. The Congress retains no adequate control over it, it is free of enforceable responsibility to the state, and it eliminates entirely or uses at its discretion existing Federal agencies now engaged in developing these resources. . . .

"TVA is being constantly lauded by people, many of whom have no first hand information concerning it, indicating that it, like Bonneville, Coulee and Shasta, was a prime factor in our war successes. Are these people apprised of the fact that most of our war production came from industrial centers adequately served by private companies; that there was no power shortage in this country except for a time in the TVA area, and that the utility industry as a fundamental part of its MUST program has always maintained productive capacity well in excess of anticipated demands . . . I am not saying that government power wasn't effectively used, but I am saying that had it not been available private initiative . . . would have provided it without expense to American taxpayers and danger to our whole economic structure," in the long-established successful free enterprise way. . . .

"An Authority . . . would substitute national socialism for private enterprise in the development of electric power and other basic industries. A European dictator had no more autocratic control over civilian rights than would proposed power Authorities which would not only displace much private business but would make it impossible for the people to enter into many lines of endeavor because of tax-exempt government monopolies. . . ."

American Bonfire

France has her eternal flame which tourists may visit, but that it nothing compared to America's perpetual bonfire that roars along to the tune of a half billion dollars' worth of property annually.

In April alone the American bonfire consumed $52,000,000 worth of homes, farms, hotels, restaurants, dance halls, and heaven alone knows what else. It is getting hotter all the time. Currently it is burning at a rate that has never been equaled since the National Board of Fire Underwriters began compiling losses sixteen years ago.

One of the most effective ways to ease the housing shortage would be to use a little more care where fire is concerned. There are very few unavoidable fires. Cigarettes and matches are the great destroyers. Greater caution in the use of these two items alone would work miracles.

Next to preventing destruction, the most important consideration is the rising cost of a fuel that keeps the American bonfire blazing. Property values are rising rapidly—so rapidly that contractors hesitate to commit themselves on building costs. This means that fire insurance policies can become outdated. A fully insured home of ten years ago would be only half insured now with the same dollar coverage. Insurance companies are trying to impress upon the insuring public the insidious menace of inflation to yesterday's insurance policy.

Next month another forty or fifty million dollars' worth of property will disappear in smoke and flame. Night and day the awful pageant will go on, until the American people realize their bonfire is a disgrace to the nation—then maybe they will do something about it.

Save the Grain

A number of years ago the food chain stores staged "producer-consumer" campaigns to move surplus crops. At that time there was a surplus of nearly everything. The chain retailers' campaigns to move these surpluses were in reality drives to teach consumers to eat a greater variety of foods, and more of them. The efforts were a spectacular success.

A gigantic producer-consumer campaign is now being inaugurated to help indirectly with Europe's famine. This country is raising a record crop of early white potatoes—60 per cent above last year, with nearly all areas from California to the Carolinas ready to harvest. Also onions are coming to the market in abundance, as well as a wide variety of vegetables and fruit. With old-fashioned enthusiasm and typical promotional efficiency, the food chains have swung into the job of helping move the record potato crop onto the consumer's dining table as an alternate for bread. Other crops will be included in the program.

If past experience is any criterion, the organized assistance of the mass food distributors in the present emergency will prove effective. Thousands of stores in every section of the country will make it their business to shove the sales of abundant food items with every resource at their command. This will automatically ease demand for grain products essential to European relief.

The program of the organized food retailers is in accordance with recommendations of the President's Family Emergency committee, the Production and Marketing administration, and other government agencies. It differs from any previous promotional effort in one all-important respect—lives depend upon its success. If the public will keep this point in mind, the efficient use of American abundance will be assured.

The Low Down on Hickory Grove

Not running for the school board, or Congress, or for any kind of uplift job, I can pop off and not be fearful of somebody's vote. My subject is "business." And I am going to say a good word for same versus pointing a finger. Anybody in business, if they should run across this writing, they will most likely pass out from the shock.

We been listening in our land of the free, to the wrong people. And to get one sample, take labor. Labor has been a sucker for the organizer. Lots of folks who work have been "pickings" for the out-of-town or out-of-state organizer gent and getting themselves nicked for dues versus listening to the boss right there in their own plant and town—the boss who writes the paycheck.

What is the cure, says Henry. Quite easy, I says. With labor now in the role of chronic sucker, business should now start showing the men how not to be such. On each pay day, in each envelope, I would print up and put in one fable by Mr. AEsop. And in due course, I could sit back and wait for an organizer to show up on the premises, and watch him get the hot-foot versus like now, which is a good cut from each worker's pay check.

Yours with the low down
JOE SERRA

Supplies Deficiencies

In soils deficient in phosphorus, the application of superphosphate makes it available to pasture grasses and other plants. These in turn make it available to livestock and human beings. Not only does this practice improve the quality of crops grown, but it also increases the yield.

"I SUPPOSE a lot of girls feel the same way about the work they do. But somehow — to me — there's an unusual fascination about telephone work. The people are so pleasant — so friendly. The work's important — and it's fun, too. I feel I'm part of a vital service."

This feeling is typical. It illustrates why the average service of Illinois Bell's more than 40,000 employees is unusually long. Nearly 14,000 have been with the company more than ten years. It shows they believe the telephone company is "a good place to work." And it explains why telephone people take more than just a "workaday" interest in their jobs.

These are the people responsible for your telephone service. And when we get all the equipment we need, they'll make your service even finer and faster than ever before.

Better Living Began with Edison's Birth
a Century Ago

WITH the birth of Thomas Alva Edison the greatest period of progress in the history of the world began. Many men of vision have, of course, contributed to this scientific advance, but Edison more than any other one man, personifies the progress of the era.

In 1847, when Edison was born, America was still a vast pioneering country. Adventurers, lured west by gold, jogged overland by stagecoaches. In the cities of the east flickering gas lamps lit the drawing rooms, but oil lamps flourished throughout the parlors of the "back country." This was the world of the youthful Edison.

Today, through the development of his 1,110 patented inventions, Edison is a dominant influence in all of our lives. During the century since his birth, we have come to accept as commonplace the incandescent and fluorescent lamp, talking pictures, movies, phonographs and scores of other direct results of his genius. Less well known, but of great importance, were, for instance, Edison's development of the basic principles of electronics and the invention of the long rotary kiln which made large scale cement production a reality.

Even during Edison's lifetime, standards of living throughout the world rose spectacularly. As Edison's work went on, his inventions created jobs, not only in the electrical industry but also in many other industries. A recent estimate shows that about one working person in nine now owes his job to an idea which originated in the mind of Thomas Alva Edison.

Only by imagining oneself living in this world without the wealth of advantages bestowed by Edison can we fully understand and evaluate the personal legacy which this great American left to each of us. Businessmen charting the advance of their firms, homemakers flicking the switch which takes the gloom out of washday . . . people everywhere, at movies, listening to radios, phonographs or merely reading in their homes, enjoy a better life because of him.

Today, we join the world in celebrating the centennial anniversary of the birth of Edison. We are proud to be among the industries which today carry forward the developments he started.

Library Booknotes

Booth Tarkington's last novel "The Show Piece," was presented to the Library in memory of William Hillebrand. "The Show Piece" is a true Tarkington novel, reminiscent of "Alice Adams" and "The Magnificent Ambersons."

Also presented in memory of Mr. Hillebrand, "Captain Grant," by Shirley Seifert, is a novel of the life of Ulysses S. and Julia Grant. The book covers Grant's West Point years, his resignation from the army at the time of his marriage, and ends with his re-entry into the army just before the Civil War.

It's been a long time since we've had a really good Indian story. "In the Hands of the Senecas," by Walter Edmonds, author of "Drums Along the Mohawk," ably fills the need. It is the story of Indians and their white captives in the bitter days of the Revolutionary War, when a white man's scalp brought $8.00.

METHODIST CHURCH

At the morning worship next Sunday, Feb. 9, Mr. Earhart Olson of Racine, Wis., representing the Lake County Gideons, will be our guest speaker. The Gideons is an organization of Christian business men. Mr. Olson is associated with the J. I. Case company. It is significant that men in responsible positions in the world of commerce consider religion of enough importance to give a portion of their time to its promotion. The public is heartily invited to be with us and hear the Gospel from the viewpoint of a layman.

Warren C. Henslee, Pastor.

Gypsy Gold

By Lillian M. Mitchell

WNU Features.

"Gosh, Julie! You are easy—giving that gypsy gal a five dollar bill for that! Gypsy gold! If that's gold I'm a busy blonde. But if it should turn the trick, let me have it next, eh?"

Julie Davis nodded. "I didn't buy it from the gypsy. I just crossed her palm with 'gold'—and that it the old days would have been five dollars. But it won't do all the work. She said to do all I could myself and then leave the rest to gypsy gold. Well, me, I'm going down stairs to the drug store and buy a big bottle of perfume and Anthony—he does like fragrance, Cordelia."

"Sure. Men do. Even rich fellows like Anthony who waste three years of a gal's time. I give up. He likes you. He has plenty to marry on. But maybe you've let things drag. A girl has to help some, you know."

At five that night Julie was prompt in leaving the office. Because it was raining, the other girls all stayed at their desks a few minutes to put everything in order. Julie, though, tripped gaily out of the elevator and towards the magazine

"What you need Baby is someone to take care of you."

counter of the office building entirely aware of her new coat and shoes and gloves, her nose well aware of the expensive perfume that surrounded her like an aura.

"You don't look as if the weather had you 'downed', Julie," Anthony greeted her in amazement. "You've been the only smiling face to come out of any elevator in the ten minutes I've been waiting. Kind of dolled up, aren't you? Want a cab?"

But as usual on rainy nights, no cab was to be had and so, shoulder to shoulder, they walked along cheerily until they came to a sidewalk grating that permitted a basement fan to get air. The heels of the new shoes slid unexpectedly between two of the metal strips.

"Ooo-o-oh!" screamed Julie.

Anthony, both arms about her firmly, held her upright. "I have you, Julie. You're not hurt, are you? You didn't turn your ankle?"

Julie shook her head and stood her ground firmly, her eyes searching down in that dark space beneath the sidewalk grating. "I'm all right but I lost my gypsy gold piece," she said disconsolately.

He laughed. "Well, if that's all you lost, that's nothing!"

"Nothing?" she eyed him wide-eyed. "Nothing? Why, Tony, it's everything, that gold piece. It's gypsy gold, Tony."

Obligingly he got down on all fours and peered down into the dark hole. He borrowed an umbrella from a passerby and poked the glittering gold piece this way and that fruitlessly. Then the passerby with a glance at his watch said he must get along and Anthony returned the umbrella.

"Come on, Julie," he said coaxingly. "We can't get the thing out. It's in there for keeps. Come on, dear."

Julie only shook her head. "I—I paid five dollars for it, Tony. That is, I didn't really pay five dollars but I crossed the gypsy's hand with gold before she gave it to me."

"Mister, we'll get the thing if you'll give us a half dollar for the job," said two newsboys.

"Go to it, kids," said Anthony heartily. "I'll make it a dollar if you're done in five minutes."

Speedily the boys thrust chewing gum into their mouths, grinning at each other they put the damp gum on the end of a long stick and poked.

"Gee, you're a honey," Anthony told her. "You smell so sweet and fragrant and you're such a little useless—losing that gold piece like that! What you need, Baby, is someone to look after you and your possessions. Suppose I hadn't been along now? Julie, Baby, are you going to give me the job?"

"What job?" she asked him gently.

"Of being your husband and looking after everything for you," he murmured.

And Julie, blissfully unaware that the new coat was damp and the pretty collar set already crumpled, looked up at him, the fragrant odor of the perfume still clinging to her as if its work was yet to be done instead of already accomplished.

Quality Chest
When buying a bureau, sideboard or chest, examine the drawers. In a quality piece, you will find that the drawer bottom is set into the drawer side and re-enforced with small wood blocks glued to the underside, while the back of the drawer comes down over the bottom.

Brush Knuckles
Extra attention should be given to knuckles and palms, and for this a little scrubbing brush is a great help. Clean your nails also with the brush since any sharp instrument scratches the skin under the nails and these rough edges pick up dirt much faster.

Chemical Study
An infra-red spectrograph has been developed to determine both the chemical structure and the amount of chemical in an unknown material. The instrument, operating on the principle of infra-red ray absorption, cannot be used for metals but is utilized for gases, liquids and many solids, including plastics.

Canned Pears
Pears can be very tasty with a small amount of sugar used in canning.

Used Fans at Rites
Fans were used in religious ceremonies by the Christian church during the Middle Ages. Deacons waved them to drive flies and insects from the sacramental vessels.

First Aid
Severe injuries should be treated promptly by a doctor, but scratches and small cuts, which happen so often to children, may be treated safely at home with simple precautions. According to Dr. Benjamin Spock in his "Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care," the best treatment for scratches and small cuts is to "wash them with soap and pure water on a piece of sterile absorbent cotton." If not, keep a bottle of hydrogen peroxide for the washing and rinsing. According to this authority, an antiseptic is less important than careful washing.

Promptness at Mealtime

Saves Life of This Hubby

WILKES-BARRE, PA. — Benjamin Desko, 58, of Pittston, is alive because he always has been punctual for meals.

Desko left home to pick coal at an anthracite field. When he failed to return for lunch, his wife went to look for him.

She discovered no trace of her husband, but saw that a bulldozer operator was filling in the entrances to several abandoned shafts in the side of a hill. Fearing her husband had been buried alive, she told her story to the bulldozer operator, who summoned a rescue crew from the Pennsylvania Coal company.

After two hours of digging, Desko was rescued from one of the openings—none the worse for his experience.

Professor Leaves Formula

For His Suicide Potion

LOS ANGELES. — A chemistry professor, Leroy Samuel Weatherby, concocted a special poison with which he ended his life and left the formula so an autopsy would not be necessary.

He was found dead at his home only an hour after he left his classes at University of Southern California. Dr. Weatherby's act was attributed by friends to poor health.

The ailing 66-year-old professor left a note addressed to his wife in which he told the formula of the poison he took and said it would be unfair to her for him to continue living in such poor health.

Cracked Dishes

Handle cups with care to prevent chipping and cracking. After dishes are cracked and the glaze is off they are not sanitary.

Pressure Saucepan

The pressure saucepan cooks meats and vegetables at a temperature several degrees higher than boiling. This saves time and fuel cost. Only a small amount of water is used, so the loss of water-soluble vitamins and minerals is reduced to the minimum. Color and flavor are also conserved.

INVITATION TO DEATH

By Yale Roe

WNU Features.
I had made a date with my former college roommate, Ted Lawson, for seven o'clock; a date for dinner, and for death.

As Ted lit a cigarette I first noticed how gray his hair had become. But it was 20 years since our graduation day when I had last seen him. The passing of time had changed us both but did not dull my memory of that day.

After the graduation exercises I had started looking for Ted. I had known him for a year but lately he seemed to be acting strangely. He was uneasy when with me and it was not long before I knew why.

Suddenly I caught a glimpse of his curly black hair in the crowd. Making my way towards Ted I saw Susan, my fiancée, with him. Susan and I were going to be married as soon as I found a job.

"Congratulations, Ted!" I clasped his hand.

"Thanks," he said quietly. "Same to you."

As I put my arm around Susan and leaned over to kiss her, she averted her head and stepped back. It was then that I sensed that something was wrong. Stunned, I heard ber tell me that she was in love with Ted, that she had been seeing him secretly for weeks. From a conglomeration of bemuddled thoughts I could realize only one thing; that it was all over.

I ordered a drink but sat for hours without touching it.

Ted married Susan the following week. They moved to Rhode Island where they lived for only a year before Susan became ill. Within a few days she died; the doctors said it was pneumonia. Perhaps neither of us was worthy of her.

I had never thought of myself as one who would someday commit murder. But with every passing day, month and year my hatred towards Ted Lawson grew until my wrath developed into a frenzy. But my revenge would not be complete if I too would have to die. Consequently, I had long thought out my perfect crime. Over a period of 20 years an act such as murder could be planned most carefully.

Actually it was very simple. About five years ago, while out of Illinois I had bought a medicine which was poison if taken internally. The effects had all the symptoms of a seizure. I had bided my time for many years so it was nothing to wait another few years until the moment of opportunity would arrive.

The bus boy cleared our dinner dishes from the table. As the waiter approached with our coffee I realized that the time for my revenge was finally upon me.

Then I noticed a blond woman of about 30 shuffle past our table swinging her hips in time to the music. Ted looked up and smiled. His eyes followed her across the room. This was my chance but I had to act quickly. With the agility of a cat I shot my arm towards Ted's cup and the deed was done. The drops of poison floated around in the cream and then sunk to the bottom of the cup.

After we had finished our desserts and coffee we sat for a while smoking and talking. Suddenly Ted burst out laughing. His whole burly frame shook with laughter until I could not stand it any longer. "What is it? What is it?" I found myself shouting.

He said, "You know, I'm a heel. Why it's really funny. When you went to buy your cigarettes, I got suspicious of you. I guess it was because I was always afraid you would do something to me for marrying Susan." He laughed some more.

"Suspicious. What do you mean?" I asked.

"I don't honestly know," he answered. "But suddenly I began to wonder if after all these years you would hate me and if you would try to harm me. So I switched our coffees. You know, like they do in the movies. But heck, you couldn't hurt a fly. That's funny, isn't it?"

The volume of his laugh seemed to swell in my ears. I rose slowly from my chair and walked toward the door. Somewhere in the back of my mind I heard Ted calling me but it did not matter. I knew that now nothing would ever matter.

Prisoner Is Married On Way to U. S. Jail

NASHVILLE, TENN. — Two days after he was sentenced to four and one-half years in prison for writing a threatening letter to President Truman, Romeo H. Lyle, 37, was married in the sheriff's office to Mrs. Effie Mynatt Armstrong, 30, of Booneville, Miss., divorcee. They met last Easter.

VFW Contest Winner Hard-Working Youth

Has Tale of Hard Work and Study-Filled Hours.

CUSHING, OKLA. — George Elnor Ladd, Oklahoma farm boy and recent winner of $1,000 first prize in the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary's essay contest, has a story of work and study-filled days and nights, tinged with youthful disappointment.

George lives with his parents on a 750-acre farm. In 1944 he was preparing for military service when his father's health failed and Ladd's draft board handed him disappointment No. 1. It told him to stay in the fields, keep the farm going.

Then there was another disappointment. Although he lacked only a handful of credits to finish, George had to give up high school to devote his full attention to the farm.

Eventually the family decided George should complete his school work and prepare to enter Oklahoma A. & M. college, although his father still was unable to work. Out of bed at 4:30 a. m. for chores, George had to be ready for the school bus at 7, then back at 3 p. m. to farm tasks lasting until nightfall.

In the midst of his crowded life, young Ladd was handed the school essay assignment: "What Can I Do for My Country?"

Over his chores he fashioned his thoughts, and at night he set them down.

He wrote: "A country is no better, no worse than the sum total of all its citizenry. It is only when each individual discovers and does the thing that he can do to contribute to civilization that the sum total will be equal to national harmony and good living."

George also wrote: "I must keep myself mentally alert so that I cannot be swayed by an emotional upheaval of the moment. . . . Any fault we find with our country's action we must find with ourselves."

It won the school contest for George and took first prize in the state contest.

Then came the news from the Boston national encampment that the $1,000 prize was his.

Farm boy Ladd hasn't decided how he'll use the money—maybe college, maybe some land of his own.

Treasure of Rare Books Tracked Down by FBI

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Federal Bureau of Investigation announced that a large number of rare, valuable books, stolen from Grosvenor library here in May, 1940, had been recovered after an extensive search from New York City to the Pacific coast.

J. B. Wilcox, special FBI agent in charge of the Buffalo office, said approximately 180 of 250 volumes had been found and that the suspected thief had committed suicide in Oakland, Calif., as government agents closed in to make an arrest.

Disappearance of the books, which included many volumes printed prior to the year 1500 A. D., was discovered in May, 1940, by Grosvenor library officials when they checked their shelves.

Nothing was heard of the stolen volumes until last February when a New York City public library representative found two pieces of the missing incunabula in a book store there. Investigation revealed that the rare volumes had been purchased from a Chicago book dealer, and the FBI was immediately called in.

Soviet Cancer Treatment Will Be Studied in U. S.

WASHINGTON. — Government health officials said it is likely American medical experts will visit Russia to study a new cancer treatment, called KR, developed by Soviet scientists.

Little is known in this country of KR but an article published in the Soviet embassy bulletin said it means "A new page is turned in the history of the struggle against the dread disease."

The bulletin said that while KR had little effect in cases of cancer of the skin, "it was highly effective in cancer of the throat, of the cervix of the uterus and of the breast."

KR is a preparation made of living material, the trypanosoma cruzi (cruzi), a parasite found in the blood and a carrier of disease fatal to human beings.

"Further research proved that trypanosoma, on being introduced into the organism of a mouse suffering from cancer, penetrated the tumor and multiplied, devouring the cancer cells," the article said.

Legion Auxiliary Plans District Meet Feb. 12 And Local Meet Feb. 14

Wednesday, Feb. 12 has been selected as the date of the next Tenth District meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at Highland Park.

Mrs. Frank Kennedy, local president urged all delegates to attend the meeting which will start at 8 p. m.

The next meeting of the Antioch unit will be held Friday, Feb. 14, at the Legion home. Mrs. Walter Hills, rehabilitation chairman, asks all members to bring materials suitable for carpet rags which will be sewn for handicraft shops of veterans' hospitals. She reminded members that they should not forget to bring needles, thimbles, thread, and scissors for sewing.

As this is Americanism month in the auxiliary program, Mrs. Frank Harden will give a short talk on the life of Lincoln. Mrs. Anton Johnson and her committee will be in charge of refreshments. The president asks a large attendance.

Woman's Club Instructed on Heritage of Illinoisans by Mrs. Laura H. Lunde

Twenty-two members of the Antioch Woman's club heard Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde of Chicago on the subject, "Taking Inventory of Our Heritage" Monday afternoon.

Owing to bad weather conditions and bad roads the meeting was held at the Guild hall instead the home of Mrs. Roy Seltz.

Mrs. Lunde impressed the group with the fact that residents of Illinois have inherited so much in the way of culture, freedoms, and opportunities as provided by leaders through sacrifice.

Tea was served following the lecture by Mrs. Seltz, Mrs. Arthur Laurson, Mrs. John Brogan and Mrs. Hedy Chinn.

Perk Up Salad
A quick and clever trick to add zest to a salad is to vary the greens. Head lettuce is the accepted green but others are more colorful and richer in vitamin A. Among these are curly endive, romaine and watercress. Even tender green spinach leaves make a color and flavor addition to a mixed green salad. For further variety the small new leaves of broccoli and cauliflower may be shredded and added.

Remove Fresh Stain
The fresher the stain, the easier it is to remove. How to remove it depends upon the type of stain, the color and kind of fabric, and washability of the garment. Here are some suggestions: For egg and meat juice stains—scrape excess food off with a dull knife, then soak stain in cold water. Wash in warm suds. Hot water will set the stain if not first treated with cold water.

Concerto for Glasses
Christoph Willibald Gluck composed a concerto for musical glasses which he performed in London in 1746 with full orchestral accompaniment. The "Glasspiel" was played on 18 beer glasses arranged on a cloth-covered board. Water was poured into each to alter the pitch, and the sound was produced by passing the moistened finger around the rims. Sometimes the sides of the glasses were struck, instead, with wooden sticks.

Remove Grease Spots
Grease spots usually can be removed from upholstery by sponging them thoroughly with a cloth saturated with carbon tetrachloride or some other solvent, working from the outer edge toward the center. Have a clean cloth at hand to absorb the soiled cleaning fluid. More than one application may be necessary.

Deodorization of Paint
If you object to the odor of fresh paint, you can meet that difficulty by mixing a deodorant sold at paint stores with the paint, in accordance with the directions of the manufacturer. Relatively little of the deodorant is required, and it is stated that it is effective and does not injure the paint.

Sandwich Filling
Honey, plus a bit of grated orange, plus cream cheese makes a sandwich filling that's nutritious. Add one tablespoon of honey and a bit of grated orange rind to a package of cream cheese. Mix together until fluffy. This filling is particularly good in sandwiches made from nut or fruited breads.

Careless Workers
A special study made by the National Safety Council of lost-time accident cases involving hand trucks revealed that in nine out of ten cases the injured person was working unsafely, and that in six out of ten cases unsafe conditions contributed to causing the accident.

Nation's Health
Selective Service rejected 4,500,000 men because of physical or psychiatric conditions and found only 5 per cent in top condition among those accepted.

Donald Heath in Japan Going to Cavalry School

Pvt. Donald E. Heath has written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heath that he is now with the army in Tokyo, Japan. He sailed for Japan on the "Greeley" from San Francisco, Dec. 10. The boat stopped at the Hawaiian Islands and at Guam for Christmas.

He is at Camp Drake attending school and likes it much as the cavalrymen do much horseback riding. The weather has been mind and he says he would regret to come home to the cold. He wants Lake county boys in Japan to get in touch with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath are at Las Vegas, Nev., visiting Mr. Heath's brother.

Trustees Seek Law on Rest Rooms at Theatres

Following complaints to village trustees that Antioch motion picture theatres are not adequately equipped with rest room facilities, Village Attorney George McGaughey was instructed to ascertain the state law and report at the next board meeting.

President Bartlett held the opinion that the theatres must, by law, have toilets for both men and women. If this is the case, steps may be taken to enforce the law.

Royal Neighbors Install Officers at Guild Hall

Despite bad weather conditions there was a fair attendance at the installation services of Olson camp, Royal Neighbors of America last Thursday in the Guild hall.

Officers who were installed were: Mrs. Louis Horton, re-elected orator; Mrs. Gladys Wilton, vice orator; Mrs. Frieda Wert, past orator; Mrs. Nellie Hanke, chancellor; Mrs. Myrtle Stowe, marshal; Mrs. Arthur Rosenfeld; assistant marshal; Miss Laura Thayer, inner sentinel; Minnie Solis, outer sentinel; Mrs. Hedy Chinn, manager; Mrs. Deborah Van Patten, musician; Mrs. Effie Nelson, faith; Pearl Anderson, courage; Mabel Hunter, modesty; Mary Runyard, selfishness; Christine Nielsen, endurance; Mrs. Otto Klass, receiver; Mrs. Alma Harden, recorder, and Agnes Hills, flag bearer.

Paint Furnace Handle
If the handles of furnaces are painted a bright yellow, they will be easier to find in a dimly lighted basement, and the possibility of burns can be diminished.
